

ABOUT

My writing, art and photography inspires everything I create for my Ranch House Gift Shop. I am as prolific and passionate about creating items for my shop as I am with writing my “When a City Girl Goes Country” magazine columns. I’ve been called an idea queen! I’m influenced by everything I see and experience in my everyday life on our Texas cattle ranch. My desire is to empower, encourage and entertain with all I create.

Folks can currently purchase my products in my Ranch House Gift Shop on Etsy. After years of also having a shop in a nearby town, I am now moving toward my dream of selling my products wholesale to boutiques and retailers.

Shop owners can choose from my books, journals, notepads, magnets, mugs, notecards, coloring books, shirts and so much more. My Home Décor & More Unique Items include such things as recipe cards, tea towels, potholders, magnetic bookmarks, gift tags and bags, window decals, stylus pens, laptop stickers and more as I’m always thinking of new products to create.

As you browse my products, it will become very clear that I am especially captivated by cows and dachshunds, but I have a new cat love in my life that has prompted some of my latest creations. My product ideas are pretty much propelled by what I love or need.
